Management signer benefits

More time for what matters

We know that your time is valuable, and your fiduciary responsibilities are extensive. That's why we work to deliver customized financial solutions that are sustainable and effective, while reducing your workload. For over 25 years, FirstService Financial has achieved this by delivering highly secure and time efficient support, which leads to smoother, more streamlined operations due to our long term banking partnerships.

With management company signers:

- Board member retains the same level of control through invoice approval (AVID), and no physical checks are ever signed.
- Critical community business continues during interruptions or adjustments to the board.
- Fraud risks and exposure are minimized as financial institutions can have stronger controls and have known persons to seek confirmations of transactions.
- Executing on board requests to open and fund accounts, and other required banking services are faster.
- Personal information is not required to be collected or provided, eliminating any identity theft concerns.
- Rigorous internal controls approved by outside auditors provide peace of mind to the board and residents.

"When our last in-house signer had an unexpected health emergency, we were unable to access our account for months — during which time we lost valuable interest, time and effort trying to rectify the dilemma. Having an agent signer would've prevented considerable headache."

— High-rise board member, Philadelphia, PA
